Dear Outstanding Alumni and Friends of Penta:

Welcome to Penta Career Center's 27th Outstanding Alumni Awards. Since 1993, we are pleased to have recognized 157 former students with this honor. We are happy to celebrate this occasion with representatives from our 16 member schools who are equally proud of our Outstanding Alumni Award recipients.

This year we are proud to recognize seven former students who have demonstrated excellence and success in their careers. Each recipient has their own unique story to share about how their career-technical education at Penta helped them reach their personal and professional goals.

Our alumni honored this year, frequently mention how their Penta training provided them with a strong foundation to prepare for their futures. They recognize the caring nature of the Penta staff who helped them build skills and self-confidence to be productive and successful in life.

The Outstanding Alumni recipients are advocates for education and training beyond high school. They believe that education is a life-long process in order to be competitive in today's global economy.

Another common trait among our Outstanding Alumni recipients is the pride they have demonstrated in their professional careers. This year's recipients have a strong work ethic and longevity in their careers.

Many of the Penta Outstanding Alumni recipients enjoy giving back to the community by supporting and volunteering with non-profit organizations. They also participate in organizations through their employers and through their family activities.

As I reflect upon my tenure as Superintendent, it's been a great privilege for me to recognize our alumni over the past 11 years. Their success validates the mission of our institution that we do help students become successful. I look forward to returning to Penta for future recognition events for our alumni.

Congratulations to our 2019 Penta Outstanding Alumni!

Sincerely,

Ronald W. Matter

ELMER DUNBERGER

As a teenager, Elmer Dunberger had a strong desire to gain skills to help him find a job right out of high school. Elmer chose to attend Penta Career Center because he knew skilled training would help him become successful in life.

"I wanted to attend a career-technical school because I knew the training was job specific which would lead to career advancement," says Elmer.

In 1973 when Elmer completed the Auto Mechanics program at Penta and graduated from Northwood High School, jobs in his career field were difficult to find. The lack of career opportunities in this field didn't discourage Elmer from seeking a different pathway.

In 1974, Elmer accepted a job at St. Charles Hospital in Oregon in the maintenance department. Soon after beginning employment with the hospital, Elmer began a 15-year career as a millwright. In this position, he worked behind the scenes at the hospital to maintain and repair boilers, compressors, pipes, and water systems. His job was diverse with many responsibilities.

During his time at St. Charles, Elmer became interested in public safety. He completed fire brigade training at his job and eventually served as the assistant chief for the fire brigade. To further his interest in firefighting, Elmer joined the City of Northwood Fire and Rescue department in 1980 while still working at St. Charles.

Elmer served for 26 years with the City of Northwood and worked his way up through the fire and rescue department. In the early 1980s, he earned his volunteer firefighter and EMT basic certifications through Oregon Adult Education and received his intermediate EMT certification through the Medical College of Ohio.

During his career with the fire and rescue department, Elmer served as a firefighter, engineer pump operator, EMS captain, assistant fire chief, and district fire chief. As the district fire chief from 2002 - 2006, Elmer supervised 30 volunteer firefighters while maintaining a full-time job. He retired as district fire chief in 2006.

After working at St. Charles, Elmer accepted a new challenge and began a 28-year career with Sunoco Inc. (now known as Toledo Refining) in Oregon. He first worked as a crude unit employee and eventually became the fire marshal. In this position, Elmer maintained all fire related equipment and fire trucks. He also responded to all emergencies as a pump operator and EMT.

During his time at Sunoco, Elmer was promoted to Emergency Response Security supervisor. In this role, he supervised 11 firefighters and 30 contract security employees. Elmer had many impressive responsibilities including managing the facility security plan; supervising the maintenance of all emergency response and security equipment; and serving as a liaison with local, state and federal agencies. After a long successful career, Elmer retired from Sunoco in 2017.

In his retirement, Elmer enjoys traveling to Las Vegas and Atlantic City. He has been married to Karen for 45 years and they have three adult children, Michelle, Paula and Robert.

MATTHEW HARVEY

Matthew Harvey has enjoyed a successful career in management and supervision for more than 15 years and credits Penta Career Center for providing a firm foundation.

"Penta and career-technical education gave me the tools to succeed in life," says Matthew.

Matthew completed Penta's Cement Trades program and graduated from Genoa High School in 1991. After graduation, he worked for a short time as an apprentice in his chosen career field. Matthew then moved on to an eight-year job with BG Flooring. In this job he gained experience in all types of flooring and concrete work as well as sales and estimating for both retail and commercial jobs.

In 1999, Matthew began a career with Yackee Electric and Construction based in Martin, Ohio. While working for this company, he gained many skills in all aspects of construction including electrical, plumbing, heating and air, and carpentry. Matthew continues to work weekends with this company when his schedule permits.

Matthew's experience in project management and construction led him to the Ohio Department of Transportation (ODOT). He has worked for ODOT at the Northwood Outpost since 2010. Matthew worked as a highway technician for three years operating equipment and providing general highway maintenance. During his last year as a highway technician, he was a supervisor and inspector.

Since 2013, Matthew has been an ODOT transportation manager with multiple responsibilities. The service area he covers is vast and includes nearly all the interstates in the Toledo area. In recent years, he has taken on the maintenance and staffing for the Craig Bridge in Toledo and the lift bridge in Port Clinton. Matthew also manages the lighting for the interstates in the area.

As a transportation manager, Matthew is a very proactive administrator and is a skilled multi-tasker. He makes policy and procedure changes, recommends long term changes in work practice trends, and also monitors the budget. Matthew supervises dozens of summer and winter employees, bridge employees, and works with 14 contractors. He also assists ODOT's transportation administrator in development of the annual district work plan.

Through ODOT Matthew participates in numerous training courses and has earned awards for safety innovation, mentoring, snow and ice control, and traffic control. He also helps schools and other organizations, including Penta, with the development of effective snow and ice programs.

Matthew enjoys helping in the community. He has volunteered to help construct three Habitat for Humanity houses and has been a coach for flag football through the Eastwood Schools. In his spare time, Matthew enjoys working on remodeling his home in Luckey, Ohio. He is married to Rosie and together they have four children – Brandon, Caitlin, Jordan, and Reegan.

APRIL (ZITZMAN) RIETZKE

When April Rietzke attended Penta Career Center, she was already gaining work experience in an office environment while still in high school. April attended classes in the morning and worked half days for The Andersons as an administrative assistant. She completed Penta's Office Professional Co-op program and graduated from Swanton High School in 1997. April credits her training at Penta for giving her a jump start into the world of business and marketing.

"I was able to work for well-established offices and be involved with elevated work environments that helped me mature and learn," says April.

April was employed at The Andersons for three years where she learned a great deal about working in an office. She moved on to an expediting company, Try Hours, where she worked for two years as an administrative assistant and then moved into a marketing position.

These experiences prepared April for a job with Gilbert Mail Service in Toledo where she worked as the sales & marketing manager from 2002 to 2004. In this position, she supervised all sales and marketing activities including lead generation, advertising and account development.

During April's early career, she attended Owens Community College full-time and earned two degrees. She received an associate's degree in business management in 2000 and in 2002 earned an associate's degree in sales and marketing.

In 2004, April began a 12-year career with AAA Northwest Ohio. She started out as the safety and public affairs coordinator and after six months was promoted to marketing operations manager. April obtained a wealth of experience at AAA and in two years she became the vice president of membership, marketing and public affairs.

As a key member of the leadership team, April had numerous responsibilities. She managed a marketing budget of $1.2 million and planned, managed and successfully executed marketing tactics for five lines of business and numerous specialty programs. April was also responsible for membership acquisition and retention, database marketing, web site/e-mail marketing, and social media.

In 2016, a new opportunity evolved for April when she accepted a position with MadAveGroup, a full service marketing and advertising agency in Toledo. She is currently the director of the marketing management agency of the firm. In this position, April directs all aspects of marketing for 40 clients at all capacity levels.

Outside of her career, April has a busy family life. She recently was married to Michael and together they have three children: Leah, age 11; Sam, age 10; and Jaxon, age 7. April and her family reside in Fostoria.

DIANA (ESCOBAR) RODRIGUEZ

When Diana Rodriguez was in high school she already had a career path in mind. She first considered a law enforcement career, but instead, she decided to pursue an administrative assistant career in the legal field.

Diana graduated from Genoa High School and completed Penta Career Center's Administrative Assistant program in 1999. She was active in Business Professionals of America (BPA), a student leadership organization. As a senior, Diana participated in early job placement at the Zyndorf and Saum law office and immediately was hired at the firm when she graduated.

Diana credits her education at Penta and her instructor, Teri Ann Pratt, with gaining professional skills and confidence that has led to a successful career.

"The education and skills I obtained at Penta helped guide me to a professional work atmosphere," says Diana. "The staff were passionate and caring about the students."

Diana continued to work for the law firm in various capacities including receptionist, legal secretary and paralegal until 2003. She accepted a new job as a paralegal with Rubin & Zyndorf Associates in 2004. During her work experiences at these law firms, Diana attended The University of Toledo where she earned an associate's degree in paralegal studies in 2005 and a bachelor's degree in the same field in 2007.

While working at Rubin & Zyndorf Associates, Diana held many responsibilities as a paralegal. Her duties included drafting legal documents, interviewing clients, preparing demand packages for personal injury cases, and preparing billing statements.

In 2006, Diana accepted a job with Advocates for Basic Legal Equality, Inc. (ABLE) in Toledo. ABLE is a non-profit regional law firm that provides legal assistance to eligible low-income individuals and groups. Diana worked as an administrative assistant and paralegal for ABLE until 2008.

Diana took another leap forward in her career in 2008 when she began working with the Office of the Federal Public Defender, Northern District of Ohio. In this current role, Diana has many impressive duties. She reviews and drafts legal documents, maintains a law library, handles the electronic filings in federal courts, and provides secretarial support to three attorneys.

Diana grew up in a Spanish-speaking household and is bilingual. She has used her Spanish language skills in nearly all of her jobs in the legal field to translate, interpret and communicate with clients.

Diana and her family are great advocates of career-technical education. Three of her siblings attended Penta. Diana's son, AJ, age 17 is a current student in the Penta Firefighter program. Diana is married to Rodney and they also have a daughter, Eva, age 15. When she is not busy with work, Diana and her family are involved in travel soccer and cross country.

IVAN "JAKE" LEE SMITH, JR

For Ivan Smith, life has been a journey. Growing up, he experienced many ups and downs in his personal life and school, but he firmly believes that his senior year at Penta Career Center set the path for success.

During his early years, Ivan struggled with school. He believes the decision to pursue Marketing Education at Penta was a life-changing experience. Not only was Ivan the president of his class at Penta, he also received the Outstanding Student award in the Marketing Education program at the end of his senior year.

"I didn't know much about Marketing, but once I took the classes and participated in DECA, I gained confidence," says Ivan. "DECA competitions prepared me for public speaking, research, presentations, and so much more."

After graduating from Maumee High School in 1997 and completing the Marketing Education program at Penta, Ivan worked in the restaurant industry for several years. During this time he worked at various restaurants in the Toledo area.

Ivan pursued his real estate license in 2004 and was successful for a few years until the market crashed. His career was put on hold during the poor housing market and he went back to work in the restaurant industry. In 2011 he received an associate's degree in business management from Stautzenberger College. Soon after college, Ivan became an agent and team leader for Key Realty.

His experience in real estate, led Ivan to a short stay with the iLink Real Estate Company from 2016-2018. He worked as an agent and director of training & development with this company. During this time, Ivan earned his Ohio Brokers License. Ivan was very determined to pursue business ownership so once he obtained this certification, he opened Serenity Realty in 2018.

Serenity Realty is a dream come true for Ivan. The company has become very successful in less than two years of operation. Serenity Realty serves buyers and sellers in the Toledo, Columbus and South East Michigan. Ivan started the company with eight agents and now supervises 35 agents. In 2018, Ivan alone helped 108 families either buy or sell homes. The company has sold over $30 million in real estate since its inception.

Ivan has received numerous awards and recognitions from various real estate organizations. He also enjoys giving back to the community. Ivan is very involved in the local AA Recovery program where he supplies funding to the organization and assists with special events. Ivan is a member of God's Instruments Church where he serves as the treasurer.

Ivan has an adult daughter, Rebecca, who is also pursuing a career in real estate. In his spare time, Ivan and his spouse, Matthew, enjoy camping and boating and they often vacation in Ft. Myers, Florida.

RYAN SMITH

Trying out different jobs was a natural thing to do for Ryan Smith early in his career in order to find the perfect fit for his interests. Penta Career Center provided a strong foundation for Ryan to pursue his career goals.

"Penta provided me with the skills and confidence to be successful in college," says Ryan.

After completing the Security and Law Enforcement program at Penta and graduating from Perrysburg High School in 1997, Ryan began working as a security officer at Target.

During this time, he attended Owens Community College and graduated with an associate's degree in criminal justice in 2000. After completing his degree at Owens, Ryan worked in general labor and as a machine operator at Express Bill for two years.

In 2002, Ryan accepted a job offer at Spherion, an automotive processing center, where he worked in customer service. During this time in his career, Ryan pursued his interest in business and decided to enroll at Lourdes College. Ryan is proud to have earned a bachelor of arts degree in business administration in 2007 while going to college full-time and working full-time.

Due to the slump in the automotive industry, Ryan worked in retail management from 2008 - 2012 for Menards and Walgreens. Ryan worked in management all over the Midwest including Springfield, Illinois; South Haven, Michigan; and in the Detroit area.

Ryan's interest in sales and manufacturing led him on new career path in 2012, when he began working for Vehtek Systems (a division of Magna International) in Bowling Green. The company is a tier one automotive supplier. The facility in Bowling Green has 800 employees.

Ryan first worked as a manufacturing technician and quickly took on new positions at Vehtek including a dock auditor and quality technician. Ryan is now a technical sales coordinator at Vehtek where he works inside the facility taking care of business-to-business sales.

Through his employer, Ryan has participated in many training and certification sessions including supplier training, NAFTA documentation and IMDS Reporting. He has also earned perfect attendance awards during times when he would work six and seven days each week.

Even with Ryan's busy work schedule, he still has time to participate in his favorite activity - Tae Kwon Do. Ryan is a third degree black belt and often volunteers to teach kids and adults Tae Kwon Do at the Monclova Community Center. Ryan lives in Perrysburg, enjoys taking cruises and is a big fan of Ohio State sports.

JESSICA (ARNOLD) SPILKER

A successful 23-year career in the Cosmetology industry has provided Jessica Spilker with many diverse experiences. She believes her education at Penta Career Center has helped her achieve success and satisfaction.

"Penta opened a door to pursue what I always had a passion for," said Jessica. "Not only did I enjoy my time as a student, I still enjoy giving back to Penta as a substitute teacher and as an advisory board member."

Even before Jessica completed the Cosmetology program and graduated from Elmwood High School in 1996, she was already working in her field. At the end of her senior year, at age 17, Jessica worked at JCPenney.

Jessica's early career as a cosmetologist provided her with many positive experiences. She worked as an employee stylist for a salon in Bowling Green where many of her clients were college students. Jessica also worked for another salon in the area where she was an independent stylist and a manager.

In 2009, Jessica pursued her goal of becoming a business owner. She opened Revolv Salon in Bowling Green and it quickly became a success. In just six years, the salon doubled in size. The expansion enabled Jessica to employ eight stylists, two nail technicians, a massage therapist, and an esthetician. She also offered internship experiences to Penta students at her salon.

In 2016, while still operating her salon, Jessica began working as an educator for Keune Hair Cosmetics, a leading brand of high-quality professional hair care products. In this position, she traveled to salons, distributors and hair academies throughout the Midwest to provide training to salon employees. She also co-facilitated many events for Keune North America in cities like Atlanta, Austin, Denver, and Chicago.

Last spring, Jessica's strong desire to educate others in the beauty industry, provided her with another career opportunity. She is now a brand manager for Premier Beauty Supply where she is responsible for the education and marketing of Keune Hair Cosmetics. She travels during the week to work with existing clients in the Midwest and also focuses on establishing new business relationships.

Jessica is a true advocate of continuing education and has earned an impressive list of CEUs offered through hair shows, online classes and in-salon training. She often takes part in training at Keune's headquarters in Atlanta. She regularly gives back to Penta through various Cosmetology events and SkillsUSA contests.

Jessica resides in Weston and is married to Doug and they have three children, Dreyden, Gavin and Darian. Jessica's daughter, Darian Messer, attended Penta and completed the Cosmetology program in 2017. In her spare time, Jessica likes to spend time with her family and dog, Hank. She also enjoys reading, listening to podcasts and kick boxing.
